HERE IS YOUR REMEDY!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

A MOST MIRACULOUS CURE OF BAD LEGS AFTER 18 YEARS' SUFFERING.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. William Gaskin, of 70, St. Mary's Street, Weymouth, dated May 5th, 1852.

To Professor Holloway,

SIR,—At the age of 11 my wife (who is now 61) took a violent cold, which settled in her legs, and ever since that time they have been more or less sore, and greatly inflamed. Her pains were distracting, and for months together she was prevented entirely of rest and sleep. Many remedies that medical men advised was tried, but without effect, her health suffered severely, and the state of her legs was terrible. I had often read your advertisements, and advised her to try your Pills and Ointment, and as a last resource, as every other remedy had proved useless, she determined to do so. She commenced six weeks ago, and is now, to relate, is now in good health, and has had no pain, has walked, been about, and is sound and undisturbed. Could I have witnessed the sufferings of my wife during the 18 years, and contrast them with her present state of health, you would indeed feel delighted at having been the means of so greatly alleviating the misfortunes of a fellow creature.

(Signed) WILLIAM GASKIN

A PERSON 70 YEARS OF AGE CURED OF A VERY BAD LEG, OF THIRTY YEARS STANDING.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Wm. Atkinson, Cycle, of Rushcliffe near Huddersfield, dated 1851.

To Professor Holloway,

SIR,—I suffered for a period of thirty years with a bad leg the result of two or three accidents like Wrigs, accompanied by similar symptoms. I had recourse to various medicines, without receiving any benefit. At last I was even told that the leg must be amputated. In opposition to that opinion, your Pills and Ointment were selected as a complete cure in so short a time as a few weeks I witnessed a perfect cure of the part. (Signed) WILLIAM ATKINSON.

The truth of this statement can be vouched for by Mr W P England, Chemist, 3, Market street, Huddersfield.

A DREADFUL AND BRILLIANT CURE IN ONE MONTH.

Extract of a letter from Mr. Frederick [illegible] of shoes, bedmaker, dated December 23, 1851.

To Professor Holloway,

DEAR SIR,—My wife had suffered Bronchitis for nearly three years months, during whole period had the best medical attendance to no use. Having before applied to you wound in my own locality your services. I determined again to give your Pills and Ointment a fair trial, and therefore gave a short, but fortunate it was I did so, for in less than a month perfect cure was effected, and the asthmatic symptoms other maladies of my family have derived from their use a really astonishing and lasting benefit. I consider it my duty to recommend them to all my friends.

(Signed) FREDERICK TURNER.

American and Foreign Office

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS WITH U. S. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON.

No. 22 State Street, Boston.

IN 1840 the subscriber was appointed by the Commissioner of Patents, Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, in accordance with the 10th Sec. of Act of '37.

Having relinquished the Agency for the transmission of Models and adopted a more expeditious mode of securing them to the Patent Office, where by a Patent may be procured about as well as further the amount of a [illegible] forward them [illegible] of expense—to prepare Caveats Specifications, Assignments and all the necessary Papers and Drawings for Patents, and to render advice on legal and scientific matters respecting the same. Patents secured in Europe and other countries.

By applying at or at this office, Inventors are saved the time and expense of journey to Washington and delay there, as well as all perspnal trouble in obtaining their patents. They also have the advantage of [illegible] explaining their inventions and [illegible] in respect to them, matters, in general, of paramount importance in order to obtain correct specifications and claims. The experience of seven years practice, an extensive collection of rare works descriptive, & pertaining to mechanical subjects, the Patent Laws, and patents of different countries, collected at much expense during the long time the office has been established, together with accounts have kept of inventions patented at Washington, enable the subscriber to afford inventors desirous of procuring Patents, assistance and information which in other respects might be difficult of attainment.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

WASHINGTON, JULY 21, 1849.—During the time I occupied the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. EDDY, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents. There was [illegible] any person acting in that capacity, who had so much success before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill fidelity and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring Inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

The Election.

We must content ourselves at present with giving a summary of results of the election so far as ascertained, reserving to another time general remarks

There is no choice of Governor by the people

The whigs have three members of Congress. S P Benson, Israel Washburn, Jr, and E W Farley

The locos have three members of Congress Moses McDonald, Samuel Mayal, and T J D Fuller

In the Senate the whigs have 14 Penobscot 3—Somerset 2—Piscataquis 1—Hancock 1—Lincoln 1—Kennebec 3

The locos have six York 3—Hancock 1—Washington 2

There was no choice in Waldo, Cumberland and Oxford.

Lincoln, Franklin and Aroostook

In the House the whigs have 71, the locos 74 and three not ascertained This report may be subject to some changes

The united character of the House will make all questions regarding the organization of the State very delicate, and the working majority quite uncertain

☞ In the past, wars have been maintained for sustaining personal official and national honor, and thousands and hundreds of thousands of men have been marshalled into the field by conscriptions by impressments by legal obligations imposed by the few, and by voluntary enlistments and by hired subsidies Neither the procurement of these men nor the production of the means of payment have always been marked by any just sense of honor Kings and their subjects have fought valiantly on the field of battle and of blood in defence of honor while at the same time they have bowed in beggary to obtain the money wherewith to pay for their high game and have violated every idea of honor in dragging men into the field and at last when bankrupt in every true idea of honor have finally been compelled at last to trade for base element under the name of regulation which differs not a whit from the word trade except that it takes more letters of the alphabet with which to write it

The transference of the ideas of the counting room and the workshop to affairs of State will also rate the idea of honor with what it costs and will thus fix its true commercial value and nations act by this judgment. The ideal, true, indefinite and fancy value of honor must give place to its real value, and the intervention of war to delay the trade and to make it more difficult and more disastrous will be doomed out of place and disgraceful. The machinery must be simplified and the wear and tear of the great friction of machinery must be taken off, for it will be doomed not her grateful or grateful as an ornament—neither scientific nor artistic as a portion of the public machine and in no wise to be tolerated as a necessity

☞ If we glance at the tendencies of governments for the few years past—their elections more or less popular and their legislation and the ideas of their leading men, we shall find them the incarnation of business and commerce—even in England, with the exception of the reigning house, the aristocracy and the democracy ranged only in the circumferences around that centre—forming no very broad fringe to the entire fabric The monetary and the commercial interests are constantly lifting their head men—well versed already in administrative functions, into the councils of the nation and the hereditary powers shrink and look small and indeed feel small before these earth born giants of the commercial era The present rulers of the world are raising those who perform them to the head of affairs, while to some a sudden fall of their predecessors in power, are combining with them and must by and by take a place below them But as the human hand is the instrument of instruments, and the human body the machine of machines, so when capital has gained that dominion to which it is tending it must for its own security be led to cherish the men by whose skill and labor capital is created and in its turn must combine with the laborers and anew banding together of classes will cause those men to be lifted to power who recognize the importance of those social questions for the bettering of the condition of the social life of the great masses and the full endowment of mutual life out of the results of the bounteous earth, the compensating sea and the hand of diligence until the whole sphere of human life shall be fermented with the new spirit.

☞ A keg of powder exploded at Chillicothe, Ohio, a few days ago, demolishing six houses, and it is supposed killed several persons.

ANCIENT ARMENIAN LITERATURE AND MANNERS—from the French of Pheleretz Charles Professor in the College of France New York Charles Scribner 1852

We have received from Messrs B F Duren & Co, a handsome volume with the above title We have here the results of a talented and learned Frenchman's study of the United States opening up to us interesting chapters in the history of this country, and the point of view taken of our distinguished men, of our government and of the manners of the American people The work though reflecting the mind of the author and partaking of his national characteristics is a very agreeable one in the way of amusement and also of interest and something in the way of instruction, particularly to foreigners

Those who have a desire to learn what the unprejudiced men from abroad have to say of our statesmen and poets and workingmen, will find much in this volume to gratify them

The work is for sale at Duren & Co's Book store

PORTIA, WOMEN OF THE WEST By Mrs. Ellet author of 'The Women of the American Revolution' etc New York Charles Scribner, 1852

The works of Mrs Ellett are always read with interest and attention The present volume will certainly be, for it contains sketches or memoirs of sixty or seventy American females who ventured into the Western Wilds and bore their part in the struggles and labors of the early pioneers The volume is illustrated with a view of the residence of General Sevier, a rustic cast looking quite primitive and like many places now existing in Maine. The work will be found full of interest and is no little tribute to those heroic women of our country, who have dis-ungulfed themselves even in marrying the wilderness into fruitful fields and making numerous of virtue upon the frame of society

This volume may be found at the Bookstore of Messrs. B F Duren & Co, in this city

Pomological Congress.

The recent meeting of the Pomological Congress at Philadelphia, was one of great interest The contributions of fruit were very large and splendid, and gave abundant evidence of an increasing interest in the science of horticulture. A vast number of reports, teeming with useful information, were received from different sections of the country, and are now in the hands of the Committee of Publication. Hon. Marshall P Wilder's eulogy on the lamented Downing is spoken of the highest terms Although occupying over an hour in the delivery, it was listened to with great attention. It is published entire in the North American The members of the Convention, organized themselves into a society for the promotion of horticulture. The next meeting will be held in Boston in 18

"Murder Will Out"

A murderous affair was verified in a most remarkable manner by an occurrence at New Orleans a few days since, of which the following are the facts:

2d inst a laborer saw a barrel rolling in an eddy of the river and brought it to shore, supposing he had secured a prize—on opening in the head, the face of a boy of the barrel and the man was shocked at the body surrounded by the liter of a

The post mortem did not develope any fact an intelligent policeman attempted examined the marks of violence, and the quality of flour adhering to the kind of wood it was marked with the name which was also found some broken hoops needed in packing the barrel to a grocery store to which a stable was attached. Here the Bay corresponded exactly with which was placed with the body a body

The same wood was plentifully in and the bed of the horse and of his stall were profusely mixed with sawdust Moreover, pieces of broken found beneath the horse's feet, corresponded in every particular with the pieces of the barrel Some time before the discovery of the barrel Some assistant of the horse's manger had missed, and had furnished the transient for a suspicion of foul play so brought to light. Further search developed the fact that a flour barrel of the same and brand as that in which the murdered boy had been stowed there, with a similar incrustation of flour around its sides and bottom—money, A. Dartigues, Jean Tape, and Chaudre, attached to the store, were without all denied any knowledge of the affair. Subsequently Tape made a statement the following facts

He is employed as a drayman by Mr that on day before yesterday saw Dartigues playing there, Mr Dartigues at said children, and told them to go store, that the children with the one, ran out, and that one was struck with a piece of iron on the head Dartigues, and said boy fell of sacks of bran, and deponent was ordered by Dartigues not to over the body of the boy. Dartigues to say anything of the matter, and ordered him to go about Dartigues at one time deponent wanted to make a man in their original was ordered by Dartigues not to sense, that to go his work deponent out, and did not hear again of the Late in the morning he saw a store, through the trashway, and walked down saw, he saw Dartigues the socks of bran which he had thrown boy Deponent also says Dartigues something in a barrel and cover it with hay. He then took it outside, and soon after returned was time eat the night, and went back of bed Deponent now recognizes the piece of iron produced and shown to him as the same used by said Dartigues in striking said boy. That on this morning there was a crowd on the levee, and Dartigues and Deponent told deponent not to say anything about what he had seen, but to go about his business. Deponent further states that when he saw said Dartigues put something into barrel, he saw a foot projected from said barrel, and says is forced back into the barrel by Dartigues. Deponent saw the body when taken from the barrel by the side of the river, and recognized it as that of the boy that had been struck by Dartigues as hereinbefore mentioned. Deponent went on the levee although told by Dartigues and Deponent not to go."

The Evening Stones.

A LOCOFOCO BALLAD—BY A YANKEE.

According to a tradition which is still preserved among the inhabitants, the city of Liege, owed all its greatness to the discovery of coal in its neighborhood by a poor blacksmith, who was without means to purchase charcoal, and, by order of a mysterious visitor, heaped on his fire the black stones which he found in the mountain.

The blacksmith's shop is silent,
His furnace no more glows,
His anvil no more rings out
Beneath his mighty blows;
His dwelling no more souddeth
With merry working song,
Thrilled forth in lusty gladness
To speed his work along,
But moodily he leaneth
Upon his quiet forge,
And mournfully he gazeth
Far up the mountain gorge

Now wherefore art thou idle
Thou stalwart man of might?
And wherefore hast thy furnace
No gleaming fire bright?
Come, come! and let us enter
This smoke house of thine,
And drink to happy future
A brimming cup of wine!
Thus spoke unto the blacksmith
A man of dwarfish frame,
Who seemed from earth upspringing,
So suddenly he came

"Right gladly wert thou welcome,
If aught to give were mine,
But to I my wife and children
For bread in hunger pine
And wherefore am I idle?
I'll tell thee stranger, why
One jot I've not of charcoal,
Nor silver more to buy

Go, quickly up the mountain,
The black stones gather fast,
And pile them on thy furnace,
And ply the roaring blast.
Thus spoke the dwarf unto him,
And vanished from his sight
While, all amazed, the blacksmith
Climbs up the rocky height,
And, Bringing stones, he heaps them
Upon the empty grate,
And swift the creaking bellows
He plies at rapid rate.

Now, thanks to holy Peter,
And blessed be his name!
The blacksmith cries, as he espies
Leap from the stones a flame
Oh, wife! Oh wife and children!
A miracle is done!
Come come and see how bright
Blazes the burning stone

For bread no more the blacksmit
Did ever want again,
But rich he grew, and honored,
Among the fellowmen
And Liege, that mighty city
Of wealth and ease the home,
Owes all to him, the happy man,
Who found the burning stone

A Life Saved!

THE life of George Buckmore, of this city, was saved from a premature DEATH by the timely use of DR. THOMAS G. BROWN'S

Spirits of Life,

Or Universal Cramp and Pain Killer.

This valuable medicine is the same that saved the life of Mrs Mary Braydon, of Garmel, some three years since, who was attacked with Cramp in the stomach. All persons must be aware of the immediate danger arising from such attacks.

THIS MEDICINE was the first and only remedy that gave relief to Miss Cochran, of East Corinth, (daughter of Chauncey Cochran, Esq.) whose life was despaired of from the effect of an attack of Rheumatic Fever, June 27th, 1850. This was all accomplished by the use of Dr. T. G. Brown's Spirits of Life, or Universal Cramp and Pain Killer.

All persons who have made use of the Spirits of Life acknowledge it to be superior to any preparation bearing the name of Cramp and Pain Killer.

The genuine Universal Cramp and Pain Killer is prepared and sold at wholesale and retail by the sole proprietor.

Lesage's Specific,

NEVER failing remedy for thoroughly eradicating diseases of the Urinary Organs, such as Gonnorhea, Gleets, Whites, Strictures, Stone in the Bladder, &c., and needful but to be once used to be universally esteemed. So prompt and successful is this wonderful remedy in those troubled with the above annoying complaints, to beware of those ignorant pretenders who would palm off their worthless compounds upon the unwary, as the genuine Specific. Lesage's Specific is only intended for the cure of Private Diseases and is thousands that have sent their unsolicited certificates vouch for its efficacy, while the better it is known the greater is the demand for it. How different from the various quack medicines which, when the unhappy patient has purchased, in nine cases out of ten make matters worse. Lesage's Specific has been the remedy depended on by every one, the senator, the lawyer, the merchant, the seaman and the dashing captain have all tried it and found it truly the good Samaritan in the hour of trouble.

Dr. Darby, ancient extracts from some of his certificates:
